Unit 2A: Common Errors 1 - 20

There are some errors which are very common. They keep on occurring in students' work, and they are very commonly tested by examiners. Obviously these mistakes are common because there is something difficult in the concept, or there is interference from Chinese. You are not going to be able to clear up these errors all at once, but it is at least worth a try. In this unit 60 common errors have been selected for you to think about. Here are the first twenty.

Try to answer the questions working with your partner(s).
